

Valentina Guariglia, Interaction Designer

About Me01

I'm an interdisciplinary designer from Italy, currently based in Zürich, with a background spanning product, UX/UI, spatial, and exhibition design. I'm interested in creating digital products and experiences that connect technology with real human needs, combining a strong visual sensibility with user-centred thinking.

I'm particularly drawn to projects with social, cultural, or environmental impact, where design can contribute to more meaningful and sustainable ways of interacting with the world.
